The 40-piece Albion College Symphonic Band will give a performance at Antioch Township High School at 8 p.m. on Wednesday, April 10.

The concert at Antioch will be one of ten the band will give on a concert tour in Michigan and Illinois. The band will offer the best in band literature, both contemporary and classical.

Conducted by Ralph G. Long, director of instrumental organizations for the College, the group will present a program of 14 selections at each of the concerts.

"We attempt to carry forth the philosophy that musical organizations exist to enrich both the performers' and audiences' understanding of their cultural heritage," says Long.

The program will include "American Salute" by Morton Gould, "Canzona" by Peter Menin, "Classical Overture" by Francois Joseph Gossec, "Italian Polka" by Sergei Rachmaninoff, "Jamaican Rumba" by Arthur Benjamin, "Lincolnshire Posy" by Percy Grainger and "Four Movements for Winds," an original suite by Conductor Long.

The Albion Band also will present "March Carillon" by Howard Hanson, "March of the Siamese Children" from "The King and I" by Richard Rodgers, "Overture for Band" by Felix Mendelssohn, "Serenade" by Richard Strauss, "Suite of Old American Dances" by Robert Russell Bennett, "The Vanished Army" by Kenneth J. Alford and a suite from the music for "The Royal Fireworks" by George Frederick Handel.

Composed primarily of non-music majors, the Albion Symphonic Band received widespread recognition last fall for its presentation of semi-classical music programs at half-time of football games. On the tour only the group will be accompanied by a woodwind quintet and brass ensemble.

Long, also a clarinetist, an arranger and composer, has been with Albion College since 1958. He is a graduate of Brigham Young University and holds M.A. and doctor of musical arts degrees from Eastman School of Music in Rochester, N.Y.

Proceeds from the concert will help to finance the trip to the Music Summer Camp by Antioch High band members.

Postal Trucks Have Child Safety Device

A step in the direction of preventing child fatalities and injuries is being made by the Post Office Department. It was announced today by Postmaster Roy L. Kufalk.

Front view reflective discs are being installed on vehicles to provide a clear view of children who might be playing or walking close to the front of postal trucks. Mail carriers will be able to see the front bumper and anyone who may be ahead of the vehicle before driving forward.

The suggestion that a stainless steel disc be mounted above the windshield would allow sufficient vision to see small children and thus prevent accidents, was made by a mail carrier driver. The suggestor used the top of his wife's stainless steel kitchen garbage container in experimenting with his idea.

Refinements were made by post office engineers after trials were conducted to determine its benefits. Reaction by drivers using the device during the study was extremely favorable and the Post Office Department ordered 20,000 of them for installation on vehicles used for delivery of mail in city bus routes. The discs are being installed on 1,847 vehicles by the Chicago Region comprising the states of Illinois and Michigan. The discs have been installed on one vehicle at the Antioch Post Office.

In addition to the discs, 44,000 postal vehicles nationwide have had safety seat belts installed to protect employees in the event of serious vehicle accidents. Drivers of vehicles without seat belts are instructed to keep doors closed while in motion so that they will not be thrown from the truck should an accident occur.

Mrs. Lindblad and her daughter, Sue, will be in charge of the refreshments for the assembly's meeting.

We still think it's a good idea. And the meeting will be held. We're not sure how many candidates will be there, and nobody, of course, can predict how many voters will attend, but we'll be there, and, as of today, so

Ed Cooney Killed In Accident

Edward C. Cooney, 51, of Indian Point, near Antioch, was killed Saturday night, March 30, about 9:30 p.m., when his car left the road and overturned, pinning him underneath.

Mr. Cooney was driving east on Millburn Road, and failed to stop at the stop sign at Edie Road. The car hit a ditch and overturned. Mr. Cooney was alone in the car at the time of the accident.

Cooney was well-known in the Antioch area. He was Antioch Democratic Chairman, and Democratic Precinct Committeeman of the 4th precinct. He was a member of the Isaac Walton League and of the Northern Illinois Conservation Club. He was Assistant Director of Conservation Education with the State Office of Public Instruction.

Mr. Cooney is survived by his wife, Lillian; two daughters, Mrs. Gary (Shirley) Vaughn of Antioch, and Miss Kathleen Cooney, at home; two brothers, Charles Cooney, Chicago, and George Cooney, Calumet City; one sister, Mrs. Marian Pollard, Chicago Ridge, Ill.; his mother, Marie Argenbright, Forest Park, Ill., and his stepmother, Mrs. Mae Cooney, Chicago, and three grandchildren.

Record-Breaking Vote Backs Republican Party Candidates

With the heaviest voter turn-out ever recorded, Murrie and Ring, Republican party candidates for Town Supervisor and Road Commissioner, won by a comfortable margin over their closest opponents, Marvin Heath and Dick Waters.

Total votes cast in Antioch Township were 3,235, more even than has previously been cast in a national election. Lloyd Murrie won re-election to the post of Town Supervisor by a vote of 1,794. Marvin Heath received 1,136 votes. George Mazzuca, who withdrew from the race last week to support Heath, received 37 votes. George Boyd received 85 votes.

Blaine Ring, Republican candidate for Road Commissioner, garnered the heaviest vote of any of the candidates, a total of 2,025. Richard Waters drew 906 votes. Harland Roettiger received 91 votes.

There was no contest for the office of Library Trustees. Louise R. Vos, Lillie Petty, Ruth Jeddle and Geraldine Olson were elected.

Votes for the two highest running candidates for each post, by precinct, were as follows: Precinct 1, Murrie 389, Heath 284; Ring 488, Waters 164. Precinct 2, Murrie 294, Heath 221; Ring 343, Waters 149. Precinct 3, Murrie 173, Heath 52; Ring 353, Waters 149. Precinct 5, Murrie 315, Heath 163; Ring 370, Waters 151. Precinct 5, Murrie 315, Heath 190; Ring 319, Waters 195. Precinct 6, Murrie 311, Heath 228; Ring 335, Waters 209.

Helen Burke, precinct committeewoman for the 4th precinct, commented that there were 18 spoiled ballots in that precinct because of voters making a checkmark in the box instead of an X.

Bradley of the Peoples Church, in Chicago, officiating. Interment was in Grass Lake Cemetery.

Sewage System Not Ready For Oakwood Knolls Says Village Board

The infiltration test on the new sewage system in Oakwood Knolls has proved unsatisfactory. Mayor Cunningham announced when the Village Board met Tuesday night, April 2. With the sinking and settling of the ground this spring, considerable re-ditching will have to be done and several manholes replaced.

A Mr. and Mrs. Merrilee, who have built a new home in Oakwood Knolls, were at the meeting and asked if the Board could give them any idea how long it would be before Oakwood Knolls residents could hook into the new sewers. Their home, they said, has been completed since December, and they are forced to maintain two homes because of the delay in completion of the sewage system. They did not install a septic system, they said, because they were told the sewers would be operating soon. The Board was unable to give them an estimate of the time when work would be completed.

The repair work on the sewage system, Mayor Cunningham said, will be done by the Kennedy Co., as part of their contract with the village.

Mr. Rosene, representing the Public Service Co., asked for an easement from the village at the rear of the Antioch Savings & Loan plaza, to erect a pole to service the new buildings. A Public Service engineer is to consult with the village board representatives as to the best placement for a pole.

John Horan asked permission to install a Memorial plaque to Willie Thiemann on the cannon near the Rescue Squad building. The Board granted permission.

Mrs. Ray Bolter, representing the Antioch Garden Club, asked permission to install eight flower boxes 30 inches wide and 24 inches high, at crosswalks on Main and Lake Streets. The club, she said, plans to install further flower boxes over a four-year period. Geraniums and petunias will be planted in the containers, and the Club plans to ask the co-operation of merchants in watering the flowers. The Garden Club plans to have the flowers planted and blooming by Decoration Day.

Three property owners near the proposed Tiffany Arms apartments were present seeking information as to the possibility of their using the sewage line being installed by the Tiffany Arms apartments. Mayor Cunningham informed them they would have to make arrangements with the owners of the apartments and bear the cost of installation.

Edgar Simonsen announced that fuel oil is getting into the sewerage system. They have so far been unable to determine the source. The oil floats to the top of the water and is readily inflammable. It creates an extremely hazardous situation, Mr. Simonsen pointed out, and could cause an explosion. Fuel oil dealers and home owners should be warned not to let fuel oil from tanks or spillage drain into basement drains.

Ray Toft announced that a voluntary safety check of cars is being planned in co-operation with a statewide program. The co-operation of local garages would be sought, with each garage furnishing a mechanic to check car brakes, lights, etc. The safety check will probably be run in May.

Julius Schwartz has asked permission of the board to build a 50 by 66 foot addition to the Ben Franklin store, with an alley running out to Victoria Street. Permission was granted, with the provision that the alley be installed.

Edgar Simonsen announced that the meeting of the Lake County Sanitary Sewage Plant operators in July will be held in Antioch. At that time he plans to hold an Open House for the public at the village garage.

Break Ground For Tiffany Arms Building

Ground was broken last Tuesday for the new Tiffany Arms Apartment to be built at Tiffany Road and Lake St., in Antioch.

Present for the ground-breaking were Mayor Murrill Cunningham, Henry Erfurth, Jr., and Evelyn Erfurth, representing Lyn-Jay Builders, Mitzie Fullerton of Cermak Realtors and Charles J. Cermak.

The building, to be erected at a cost of about $300,000.00, will include 36 one- and two-bedroom apartments. The apartments will be housed on two floors, plus garden apartments.

Features of the new apartments will be Air-Conditioning, sound-proof rooms, built-in refrigerators, stoves and ovens, ceramic tile baths with colored fixtures, and hot-water heat.

Rents for the apartments, according to Charles J. Cermak, will run from $125.00 a month for the garden apartments to $135.00 monthly for the two-bedroom apartments.

The apartment grounds will include playgrounds and parking area.

The location for the apartments was sold to Lyn-Jay Builders by Mitzie Fullerton, associate realtor of the Charles J. Cermak firm. Cermak's firm will act as the leasing agent for the apartments, with leases now being accepted for July 1 occupancy.

Meet Your Village Board Candidates April 10th

The Antioch News, as a public service to the voters of Antioch, has arranged an open meeting at 8 p.m. at the Antioch Grade School on Wednesday night, April 10, at which we hope to introduce all the candidates for Village Board to the people.

The meeting, we must admit, was not our idea. It was first suggested by David Nissen, and it sounded like a good idea.

We still think it's a good idea. And the meeting will be held. We're not sure how many candidates will be there, and nobody, of course, can predict how many voters will attend, but we'll be there, and, as of today, so will Bette Meyer, Warren Heintz, and — we think — David Nissen.

We wrote letters to each candidate last week inviting him, or her, to attend, and requesting an answer. We got prompt acceptance from David Nissen, Bette Meyer and Warren Heintz.

We contacted a couple of the other candidates, when we didn't hear from them. And, to date, have been unable to write either a firm acceptance or refusal from those contacted. Each one told us he heard the others weren't planning to attend, and if they didn't, he wasn't.

So Monday night we hear the candidates held a meeting to decide whether they'd attend the meeting. We hear the candidates decided not to attend the meeting. Ralph Gresens informed us that the candidates voted 7-3 that they did not wish to have such a meeting held. However, Mr. Gresens says, he will attend the meeting if it is held, and he believes the rest of his slate will.

So that's how matters stand right now. We can't guarantee the candidates that all the other candidates will appear. However, as we said, we will be there, at least four of the candidates will be there (barring further complications) and we hope the rest of the candidates will decide to attend.

Party Politics-Township Style

This is the first township election in Antioch Township in which party politics has played a part. And we hope it will be the last.

This campaign has engendered a bitterness among the candidates unmatched in township campaigns. The bitterness has often spread to people and businesses.

The trouble started as early as the caucus to select Republican candidates. It grew throughout the weeks before election.

At the township level, there is no need for a party label. Most of the candidates are fairly well known. It is difficult to think of a neighbor or friend, whom you respect and with whom you find yourself in accord, as a Democrat or a Republican.

Often the two best candidates for a post may be from the same party. This is particularly true in a heavily one-party area such as Antioch township. If the practice of picking a party candidate becomes firmly entrenched, and the party candidate consistently wins, the voter will lose his chance to vote for the man of his choice. His candidate will be chosen by the precinct committee-men.

A completely one-party system is never a healthy situation, regardless of what party is in power. If the Republican party continues to select a party candidate at the township level, one of two situations must occur—either there will be a surge of voter resentment which will defeat the party candidate, even though he may be a good man for the job; or voters will no longer bother to vote.

ANNIE MAE

When you read this the Township election will be past history. The votes will have been tallied and carefully locked away, and the various placards and posters will begin to fall and be torn away by winds and time. However a fresh new campaign is waiting at the doorstep for you, the race for positions on the Antioch Village Board. In the meantime, though they wage a silent sort of campaign, I urge you to take serious thought to your local school elections to be held April 13. In any election, be sure to VOTE.

THE LATEST REPORT: Mrs. Roberta Selter Knirsch has sent a most interesting letter in response to my request for some remembered Autograph verses. It seems she has in her possession an autograph book that belonged to her great aunt Nettie Selter in 1881. She relates that there are many still familiar names in this book, such as, Herman, Yopp, Effinger, LaPlant, Grace Lux, Trieger and others. The following are some of the verses copied from this same book:

In the storms of life,
When you need an umbrella
May yours be upheld
By a handsome young fellow.

Long may you live,
And happy may you be,
And loved by all,
But most by me.

Remember me to all I ask
But if remembrance be a task,
Forget me.

And finally the serious farighted feelings of one Bertha Lux, dated June 1, 1888. "We have met in the shade of earth. May we meet in the starlight of heaven." Mrs. Knirsch and I both feel that God in his Heaven heard. Thank you, Mrs. Knirsch, for sharing your most treasured book with all of us.

THE LAST DROP: Gino Pichetti of the Dea Gao Lounge was ticketed in Waukegan last week for what is perhaps one of the most aggravating traffic offenses, going straight in a left turn lane. Our sympathies go out to you, Gino... well, all of the neighbors have their sheets out on the line this summer, weather, and they're beginning to stare at my empty line, so I shall leave you on this washday with another old Swedish folk saying that seems to hold so much truth. "He is a friend to none who is a friend to all."

Make your friendship qualify,

Youth Group Works For Museum

Kenneth Murphy, Supt. of the Beach Park Community Consolidated School, has announced the personnel of the Youth Education Committee serving with the Lake County Museum of History Fund campaign. Those serving are:

Charles J. Caruso, Supt. of Wilmot School, Deerfield; Melvin E. Colbert, Supt. of Lake Villa Community Consolidated School, Lake Villa; Milton J. Davis, Supt. of Gurnee Grade School, Gurnee; Dean Larson, Administrative Assistant of Libertyville-Fremont High School, Mundelein; Richard Warfield, Supt. of Wauconda High School, Wauconda; Floyd L. Weshinsky, Supt. of Lake Bluff School, Lake Bluff; and H. L. Wesner, Supt. of Elmhurst Consolidated School, Lake Zurich.

The Youth Education Committee met Thursday, March 28, to formulate plans for an educational program for all public and parochial schools of Lake County. All school administrators are being notified of the program which will be put in operation within a week or ten days.

The Libertyville Chamber of Commerce has gone on record as getting squarely behind the project to build a new, fire-resistant home for the Museum of History when they unanimously passed the following resolution:

RAY TOFT, Chairman of the Police Committee, and Police Chief Walter Scott hold the Safety Award plaque presented to Mr. Toft by Secretary of State Charles Carpenter at the Safety Commission dinner held March 27. The plaque reads, "The Lake County Safety Commission presents to the Antioch Police Department, Antioch, Illinois, this Civic Safety Award, given in recognition of outstanding safety promotion."

Courthouse Notebook

BY LOU DURKIN

The amendment to the judicial article in the Illinois Constitution approved by the voters on the "blue ballot" last November is supposed to eliminate many of the shortcomings of the present constitution and perhaps it will.

But the amendment is also creating a host of new problems and ignoring one of the most brutal types of political campaigning.

This, of course, would be the party convention where candidates for Circuit Judge posts are nominated.

The maneuvering for delegates, the pressures brought to bear on the delegates and the cries of political sell-out after the votes are tallied add nothing to the dignity of the court involved.

Few of the delegates to such a convention go there as free agents representing the people of their precinct or area, but as agents of the officials to whom they owe their jobs if they are pay-rollers.

Bosses in private employment also get into the act by pressuring a delegate to vote the way the boss dictates regardless of the personal convictions of the delegates.

A high premium is set on political loyalty and convention time is a convenient time to check on that loyalty.

Last week's convention stopped just short of a real donnybrook, but wounds were opened and salt rubbed in old wounds as a result of the maneuvering.

The big fear of Republican leaders now is that the legislature which kicked around the idea of delaying election of a fourth judge for the Lake-McHenry Circuit until the convention became necessary, may now kick over the traces again and amend the law at the last minute thus making all the blundering meaningless.

There seem to be many questions about the implementation of the blue ballot amendment, not the least of which is its effect on the future status of scores of Probate Clerks and Circuit Court Clerks.

Since County Judges, Probate Judges, City Judges, and Police Magistrates will become Associate Circuit Court Judges and their courts abolished, what happens to the clerks of their courts?

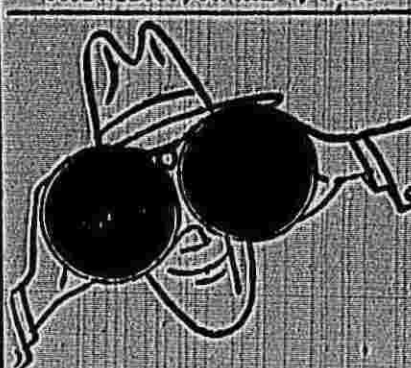

The best answer seems to be that incumbent Circuit Clerks will have the inside track for the job of Clerk of the Circuit Court with the clerks of the other courts becoming deputies appointed by the Circuit Clerk.

This would seem to make further discussion of the "shorter ballot" somewhat academic.

County Board Chairman Robert Dickson, of Wauconda, wasn't a candidate in Tuesday's Township elections, but has more than a passing interest in the outcome of the balloting for supervisor and assistant supervisor in each township.

Dickson has indicated that he intends to seek a second term as board chairman, but a series of upsets in the balloting could change the picture on the board for him.

What this country needs most is not a five-cent cigar, or even a ten-cent beer. About the most valuable addition to the public scene that we can think of at this time is another Will Rogers to comment on some of the problems of everyday life. Particularly the political dolings.

Will had a knack for going straight to the heart of a problem. And a knack for punctuating balloons of self-importance, myth and deceit.

Some of the things he wrote fit just about as well today as they did when they were written. Here's a quote from his autobiography. It was taken from one of his newspaper columns of comment. This one was written after a national election:

"There is no more independence in Politics than there is in jail. They are always yapping about 'Public Service.' It's public jobs that they are looking for."

"This country runs in spite of parties. In fact Parties are the biggest handicaps we have to contend with. If we didn't have to stop to play Politics any administration could almost make a garden of Eden out of us. If we were run by the Manager form of Government, we would soon be paying so little taxes we would be lonesome. You could transfer the Senate and Congress over to run the Standard Oil or General Motors and they would have both things bankrupt in two years."

Some time when you're tired of reading about the atom bomb threat, and juvenile delinquency, and public morals, sit down and read—or re-read The Autobiography of Will Rogers. Kind of restores your perspective.

In spite of his unkind comments about politicians, Will also said, "I never saw a man I didn't like." And he met a lot of politicians, and a lot of them were his friends. So he couldn't have believed they were all bad.

This manager form of government sounds real good. Certainly no business man would run a business as big as our government as badly

MY OLE GRANDPAPPY USED TO SAY!

By the Rev. Fr. Edmund E. Hood

Was He thinking of our community?

"I know your works: you are neither cold nor hot. Would that you were cold or hot! So, because you are lukewarm, and neither cold nor hot, I will spew you out of my mouth."

For you say, I am rich, I have prospered, and I need nothing; not knowing that you are wretched, pitiable, poor, blind, and naked. Therefore I counsel you to buy from me gold refined by fire; that you may be rich, and white garments to clothe you and to keep the shame of your nakedness from being seen, and salve to anoint your eyes, that you may see.

Those whom I love, I reprove and chasten; so be zealous and repent.

Your Governor Reports

by OTTO KERNER

The improvement of the Illinois Youth Commission has been uniquely gauged by an independent survey committee which found, upon submittal of its report, that some 60 per cent of its recommendations already had been put into effect by the youth agency.

The "New Look" in the Illinois Youth Commission is directly attributable to the aggressive new leadership found in all key positions, including the chairman, John A. Troike.

Shortly after I took office in 1961, a situation arose in one of the IYC facilities—the Industrial School for Boys—that highlighted the need for improving the commission's program.

It was subsequent to this situation that I appointed Troike and a special survey committee of leading citizens to evaluate our programs of delinquency prevention and the custody and treatment of the offender. Dr. George Beto, then president of Concordia Seminary in Springfield and now director of the Department of Corrections for the State of Texas, was named to head the group.

While the committee surveyed the needs, our new leadership in the Youth Commission plunged into the job of strengthening the programs. As it turned out, 60 per cent of what the impartial committee recommended had already been accomplished.

New emphasis has been placed upon the in-service training of existing personnel, and on raising standards for new employees. An accelerated program of public education on the problems of delinquency was introduced, with regional conferences offered on such subjects as school dropouts and youth employment, and with additional training courses offered for police juvenile officers.

A program of renovation of some of the obsolete facilities was begun, and, at a minimum of expense, the capacity of the forestry camps was expanded. The Industrial School for Boys, focal point of most of the criticism two years ago, has undergone a complete revision of program, with emphasis shifting from custody to treatment. Academic training has been introduced in some of the forestry camps.

In short, the sights of this administration and the impartial study committee were aimed at the same target from the outset—a better youth program for the State of Illinois.

ALL ABOUT BABIES...

A Public Service of the National Baby Care Council

KEEP YOUR BABY COMFORTABLE IN COLD WEATHER

By Doris Miltenzway, R. N.

The way new mothers over-wrap and bundle their babies suggests that they believe any temperature below 85 degrees is a menace to infant health.

Of course this isn't so. Actually, a baby who lives in a house where temperatures are consistently too high is quite apt to have a pale complexion, a loss of robust appetite and be a bit lethargic.

When the baby is awake and playing, the room temperature should be between 68 and 72 degrees. Be sure to check this regularly with a thermometer. Unless you do, the room will get progressively warmer as the winter rolls on. In winter it is easy to get accustomed to excess heat and come to need more of it.

In homes where temperatures are kept too high, it is very likely that the excessively warm air will dry an infant's air passages and may even pave the way for infections.

While sleeping, babies require even less heat, and are most comfortable when the thermometer reads 60 degrees. Naturally, you will see that there are no drafts in the room and that the baby is well covered. Mercerized cotton is most comfortable next to the skin. Top it with a loose-fitting wool coverall.

Take the baby outdoors in cold weather, too. Like adults, when properly protected from outdoor cold, babies find temperature changes stimulating. Try and plan your fresh air jaunt for the middle of the day when the sun is at its highest.

Be sure to protect your baby's skin outdoors because it is exceptionally sensitive. The best way is to dip Q-Tips in a bit of petroleum jelly and coat the tip of the baby's nose and chin. The soft cotton tip is a gentle but effective applicator.

Older children who are outdoors in cold weather should also receive this protection from chapping.

Be careful not to over-wrap an infant when he is going outdoors. A heavy scarf, for example, makes it difficult for a child to turn his head easily. When a child wears too much heavy clothing he is more apt to feel cold because his body loses its natural capacity to react to temperature changes.

THE COMMON COLD

By C. Robert Gruver
Editor, All About Babies

Pediatricians point out that in babies, there is greater likelihood that the common cold will spread to the lungs or ears and cause such complications as bronchitis, pneumonia, or inflammation of the middle ear.

They urge mothers to take extra precautions to prevent their babies from coming down with a cold and extra measures to minimize the effects of a cold after it develops.

Babies should be kept away from persons who have colds and from crowded places such as stores, buses and movie theaters. If a mother who has a cold must take care of her baby, she can give the baby some protection by wearing a gauze mask over her mouth and nose, and by washing her hands with soap and water before handling the baby or preparing its food.

Anything which tends to lower a baby's body resistance such as not eating enough of the right kinds of foods, and lack of rest, will often increase a baby's susceptibility to colds. Diseased tonsils and other defects in the nose and throat may also be contributing factors.

Sniffles, sneezing, coughing, tickling or soreness in the throat are some of the symptoms of a cold. When a baby shows these signs, he should be put to bed, kept warm and quiet and separated from other people, especially other children.

If the cold does not clear up quickly, a physician should be consulted. For some of the signs of a cold may also be the symptoms of the early stage of many communicable diseases of babyhood. If the symptoms are followed by chills, or convulsions, fever and aching, it may be more than a cold, perhaps some babyhood infection such as measles, pediatricians say.

Parents should not allow a baby who has even a mild cold to mingle with other children. This one precaution alone, a responsibility of all parents, would do much to minimize the effects of a cold and check the spread of colds and other infectious diseases among babies.

PREVENT INFANT POISONINGS

By Dr. Robert E. Gosselin
Director, Poison Information Center, Mary Hitchcock Memorial Hospital.

As babies begin to crawl and walk, and as their natural inquisitiveness grows, they become susceptible to accidental poisonings. Surprisingly boys between the ages of one and three are statistically more likely candidates for poisoning than are girls in the same age group. Since the most common cause of infant poisoning is the accidental swallowing of drugs, medicines and household chemicals, the basic rule for prevention is simply this. Place all potentially harmful substances in places that are completely inaccessible.

The substances that cause accidental poisoning are present in most every home. And wherever they are present, danger lurks.

Drugs and medicine account for about one-third of the accidents. About 18% of the accidents are caused by swallowing detergents, cleaners and car polishes. Insecticides, rodenticides, insect repellants, bleaching solutions and disinfectants are some of the other substances involved.

Storing harmful substances in household containers that babies associate with food and drink is another contributory cause of poisoning among babies. The number of people who store poisonous substances such as kerosene and gasoline in soft drink bottles is appalling.

In more than 80% of the accidents, kerosene, benzene, turpentine, ammonia, bleaching agents, solvents, furniture polish and insecticides were stored in such containers as drinking glasses, soda bottles, mayonnaise jars, coffee cans, milk bottles and fruit jars. In most cases, the containers were in open places such as on tables, shelves, floors, under sinks or on window sills.

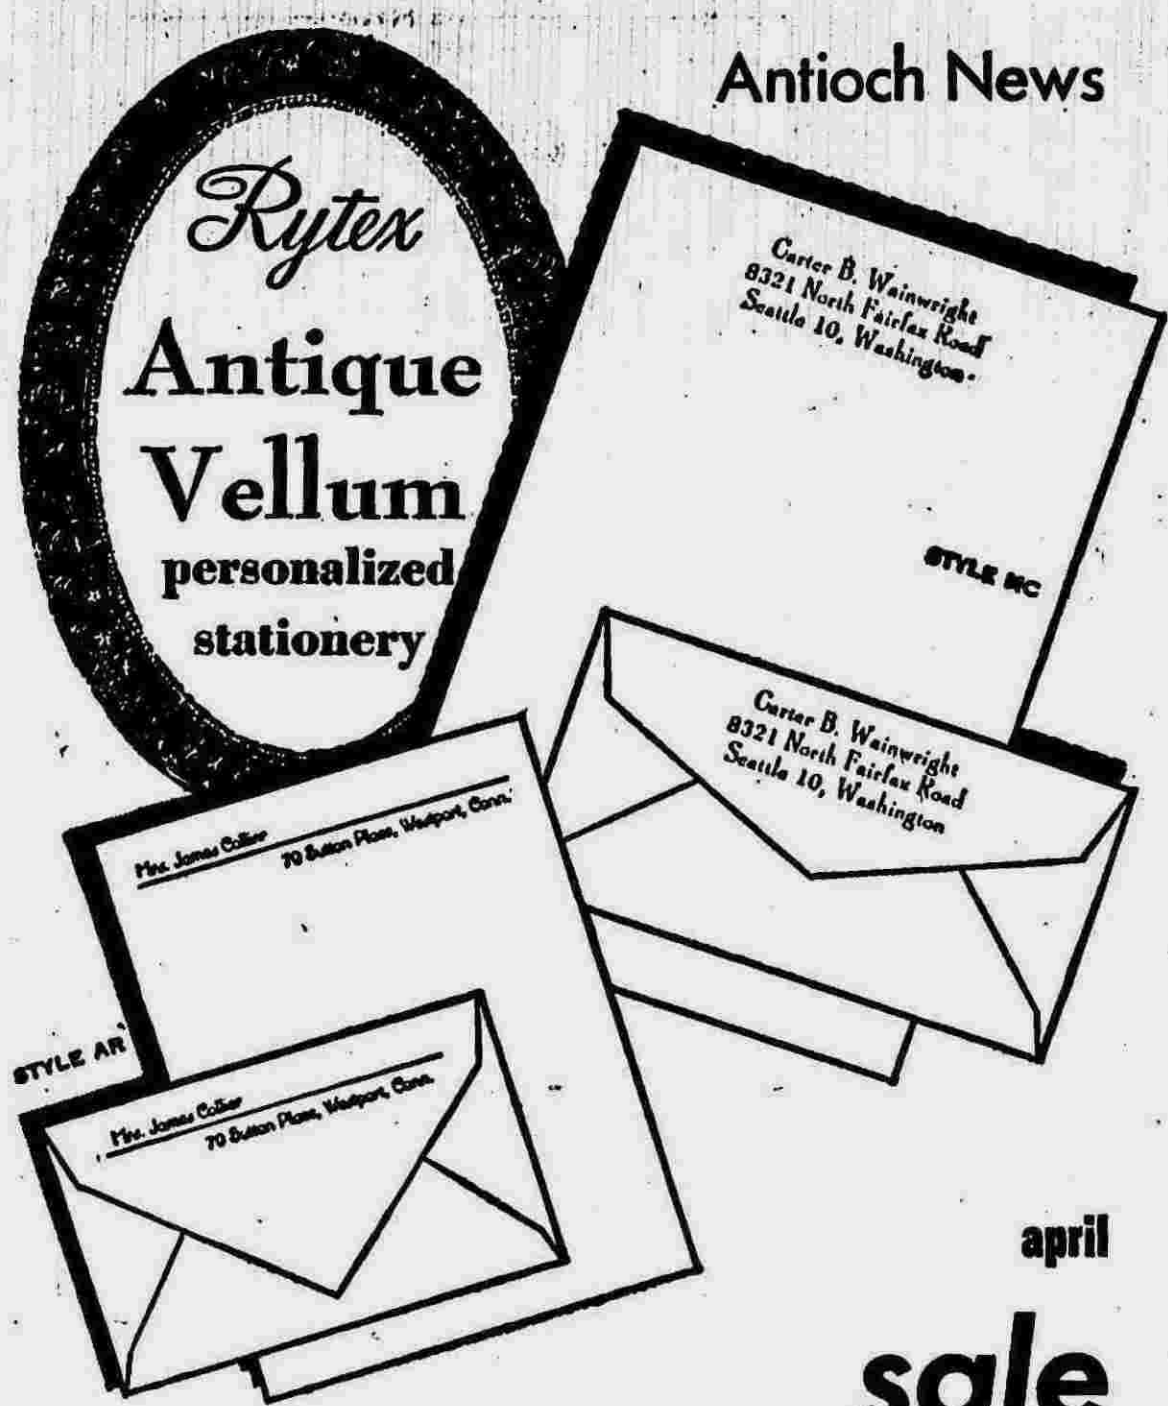

If these substances had been kept in their original containers and placed in out-of-the-way areas, where babies and young children could not reach them, the occurrence of poisoning would have been eliminated.

OBEY SPEED LIMITS

If you're under 21, don't drive over 65. If you're over 65, don't drive under 21. This, according to the Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company, is a good rule for both young and older drivers to follow. At speeds above 65, young drivers often run into hazardous situations beyond their experience and judgment. Older drivers who like to amble along often cause accidents by delaying traffic that is anxious to move at higher speeds.

The safest place for pedestrians to cross the street is at the corner, says the Chicago Motor Club. But even corners are safe only if pedestrians take the necessary precautions. Before stepping from the curb, always look in both directions. If there is a traffic signal at the intersection do not walk until the proper sign is flashed. A safe pedestrian is an alert and cautious one.

AH, YES, CHUCK HOLES

The Chicago Motor Club cautions motorists that this is the season to be on the lookout for chuckholes.

This always is a springtime danger, but this year the hazard will be even more prevalent following the recent rugged Midwest winter.

Chuckholes in the pavement of our streets and highways result when water, frozen in the road surface, thaws, causing the pavement to break up. The holes can be extremely dangerous and can cause extensive damage to your car.

Your car's tires can receive damage from striking a chuckhole, which, if undetected, could eventually cause a blowout. Hitting a chuckhole also could put your wheels out of alignment, which in time would result in severe and uneven wear on the tire, motor club safety experts say.

It is possible that if you run into a deep chuckhole at high speeds, you might even break an axle or overturn your car.

The motor club cautions that motorists should not be lulled into a false sense of security because roads and highways are free of ice and snow. Motorists should be alert for chuckholes so that they have time to avoid them. However, if you find you are approaching a chuckhole rapidly, don't stop or swerve suddenly. This could result in a collision with following or oncoming vehicles.

The motor club also urges drivers to be alert for road crews which at this time of the year are likely to be out repairing highway surfaces.

"Well," confided her companion, with a rather harrowed look, "I didn't."

learn to watch for unusual stones to bring to her.

Mrs. Marsh pursued her hobby solely for her own pleasure and that of her friends for many years. Recently she has sold many to people who have asked to buy them.

She hopes her display in the Children's Room at the Chicago Library will stir children's interest and lead them to look with interest at

The original and imaginative work of Mrs. Isobel Marsh of Beach Grove, Antioch, is well-known to many Antioch residents. Chicagoans will get a chance to view Mrs. Marsh's pictures this month when they are on display at the Chicago public Library.

Mrs. Isobel Marsh

Mrs. Marsh has created an original art form with pictures she makes almost entirely of stones. The stones are carefully selected by her to form pictures. "Selected" isn't quite the word. She looks at a stone and sees it in a face, a hand, perhaps an animal.

Then the separate stones are arranged on a background, usually cardboard, to form a picture. Sometimes Mrs. Marsh paints in backgrounds. Sometimes she adds a terse title to accent the picture.

Some of the stones have a bit of paint here or there to accent an eye, a mouth, some feature of the stone which might not stand out to the unskilled eye.

Mrs. Marsh doesn't confine her work entirely to stones. She has some beautiful pieces of wood in which she has seen objects and has mounted them to display their form.

In addition to the stone pictures, Mrs. Marsh has made figurines of stones.

Mrs. Marsh will be 91 years old in May. Mrs. Margaret Aschenbrenner, who teaches music at the Antioch Grade Schools and also teaches privately, is her daughter. Mrs. Aschenbrenner is preparing her mother's pictures to be taken into Chicago.

Though bedridden for several years, Mrs. Marsh is bright, busy and cheerful at 91. Many of her friends and parents a chance to ask questions.

This time of year is an inactive one as far as sports are concerned, for no actual games are scheduled. The boys, however, have been practicing for several weeks. The spring sports now in practice at the high school are baseball, track, and golf.

A bad skid often results from a bum steer. According to the Institute for Safer Living, proper steering is the most important essential both for preventing a skid and in getting out of one. If you do find yourself skating on the road surface turn the wheel steadily in the direction of the skid until the car begins to travel in a straight line. Avoid over-steering while attempting to correct a skid.

Preferred Reading

A newspaper editor in Montana placed his tongue firmly in his cheek the other day and composed a list of answers to a questionnaire on responses to what the average reader desires to see:

1. My native.
2. A front-page article showing how crooked the city government is most of the time.
3. My wife's name.
4. A feature article showing 25 ways on how to cheat on income tax forms.
5. My kids' names.

6. A local news item about the affair my neighbor is having.

7. A classified ad offering a new home for sale for $4,000.

8. More news about law-breakers.

9. Less news about law-breakers. I was picked up last night and should not have to pay a fine.

10. An editorial condemning Congress and the Legislature for spending too much money.

11. A wedding picture of the groom instead of the bride when he is more handsome than she is pretty.

12. A sports picture of me when I bowled 183.

13. More advertisements on things that merchants are giving away.

14. A front page picture of my neighbor being hauled out of the bar by his wife.

15. A front page spread about the deadbeat who lives across the street from me who just had his car repossessed.

16. Forget that last one. I just had word from the finance company that they're coming after my car.

17. More letters to the editor naming the crooks we have in town.

18. A full page of local news, a full page of national news, 16 pages of sports, 26 pages of comics, one page on divorces and three pages on all the domestic troubles we are having in town.

19. Less stuff about how cute everybody else's kids are. My kids are better looking than those you rave on about.

20. A complete biographical sketch about the 'most important citizen in town,' and be sure you spell my name right.

Your Congressman Reports....

By Cong. Robert McClary

Existing tax laws having admittedly reached a point of diminishing returns, Congress is faced nevertheless with legislative proposals which would create new and additional federal obligations. In these new and "popular" — perhaps laudatory — programs, the Congress is being asked, as usual, to tap the American taxpayer.

Take, for instance, the Youth Employment Acts proposed by the President under the guise of attacking juvenile delinquency as well as unemployment. The multiple-pronged proposals which would resurrect the Civilian Conservation Corps (C.C.C.) of the 1930's and establish a so-called Domestic Peace Corps, would start off with a modest appropriation of $40 million and would seek to benefit 15,000 young people. This would hardly put a dent in the 700,000 young men between the ages of 16 and 21 who are said to be in search of useful employment. One may ask how many more billions would be needed if the 15,000-man program were expanded to accommodate the full 700,000.

In addition, the proposal would establish a new federal matching fund program in which states and municipalities would be induced to participate with the lure of so-called "federal" matching funds. It should be understood that this would increase tax obligations in the states and municipalities to the extent of their contributions and where, because of state constitutional limitations, deficit financing as recommended at the national level would not be possible.

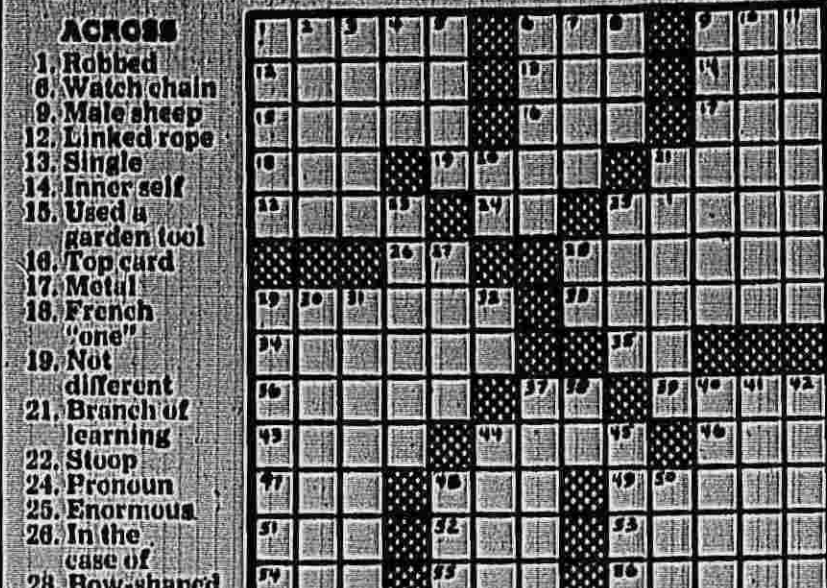

Another proposal which is bound to have great appeal is the so-called Mental Health Bill which would encourage mental health clinics throughout the nation and would again involve matching funds on behalf of the states and smaller units of government. This proposal should be of special concern to residents of the 12th Congressional District in view of the large state appropriations which have been made in recent years, including the $150 million bond issue approved by the voters in 1960 for the primary purpose of establishing additional mental health facilities, including mental health clinics in local areas.

Proposals for Medical Care for the Aged under Social Security, Federal Aid to Education at all levels, and numerous other New Frontier Programs—all of which presently may be organized and financed by the states and localities without federal compulsion or interference—should arouse our citizens to the threats of increased national domination as well as increased financial obligations which are beyond the means of the nation's citizens.

The paucity of public concern about these measures is striking indeed to this Member of Congress. For instance, with regard to the so-called Youth Employment Act, there was not a single witness who appeared in opposition to the bill when it was heard by the Senate Committee on Labor and Public Welfare.

While the rumor is circulated widely that the Kennedy Administration is not in earnest in behalf of the various legislative proposals other than a tax reduction program, it would certainly seem to be food for our citizens to rely upon such a rumor. Insofar as this Member of Congress is concerned, it is his firm belief that all of the New Frontier proposals will be pushed with equal vigor—with a strong possibility that all will be passed, and—with the foregoing conclusion that federal obligations will mount. Only an aroused public can stave off such a development.

MAGIC OF PRAISE

"A lady we know said that she has a jewel of a maid but I am careful not to let her know it; it might go to her head." This lady has her directions mixed. It would more likely go to her heart. "Why is it that so many people fail to understand that other people like praise as well as they do? Not only maids and other employees but everybody—your friends, the members of your family, your business associates, important people as well as the rest of us—all like praise. "Praise works miracles—not only for the person praised but for the fellow doing the praising. Somehow you can't praise others without becoming a better person yourself. It makes all concerned stand alert inside. "It is astonishing how many things about people you can discover to praise if you open your eyes—and your heart. Make it a little secret policy to find something to praise somebody about every day. Learn for yourself the magic of praise. See what it will do for you—within a month."

Young Bowlers Compete In Tournament

Seventy-eight young bowlers competed in the Bantam, Junior and Senior Divisions of the All-O-Graphic tournament last Saturday at the Antioch Bowl.

The tournament is an annual team event conducted by the ABC. Emblems will be given to the three highest teams. The number of pins over average rolled by each team determines the winner.

The winning Bantam team bowled 180 pins over average. Members of the winning team were Robert Truelsen, Ronnie Ozga, Oliver O'Higgins, Mike Ozga and Dan Stenberg.

In the Junior division, the high team topped the pins for 333 pins over average. Team members were Wayne Slagle, Dean TenBrun, Jim McCarthy, Dan Matteoni and Kenny Kasel.

The Senior Division team knocked down 134 pins over their average. This team was made up of Dan Hamelberg, Jack Price, John Jedole, Bill Booker and Rust Camillo.

Some of the individual high scores in the tournament were: Wayne Slagle with 227-195-158 for a 580 series. He will receive two patches, one for an over 575 series, another for a game over 225.

Dale Crandall will receive a patch for his high game of 231, to which he added games of 188 and 166 for a 565 series.

Tom Mayerle rolled 200-165-144 for a 509.

Ricky Ripley had 202-130-168 for 508.

Dan Hamelberg turned in games of 185-177-166 for 528.

Bernie Guntly had a 510 series with games of 154-183-179.

Kenny Kasel rolled a 209 game.

High scorers for the girls were: Barbara Casella with 185-155-145 for a 485, and Linda Ripley with 150-164-151 for 485.

Scores will be sent in to tournament headquarters, where they will compete with scores from 16,000 teams from the United States and other countries.

TED DEBOER, DENNIS DEBOER and Bruce Valling wait patiently in the bull pen for action to start in the Little League.

59 Track Hopefuls Report for Action

Fifty-nine boys reported for the first track session this week. Coach Roger Andrews reported, including four lettermen, Rich Fitch, dashes and low hurdles, Rick Fowles and Dione Rathbone, middle distance, and Dave White pole vault will form the nucleus for this year's squad.

"We have an outstanding group of sophomores reporting," Andrews said, "and if they hold together and develop as we expect, we can look for great things from this group in the next few years."

Coach Rog Andrews also released the school track records gathered since 1956. No records were kept previous to that year and since Andrews joined the coaching staff he has urged for a program of keeping statistics in all sports.

These are some of the records the boys will be shooting at this year:

Local Country Club Cites Improvements for Members

The George Diamond Country Club near Antioch has become a showplace of Mid-America. Golfer and charcoal broiled steak house operator George Diamond has spent a quarter of a million dollars to make 300 acres of Lake County real estate a paradise for devotees of golf.

The sporty 6,400-yard course near Highway 59 and Grass Lake Road—with its velvet fairways, manicured greens, and radio-controlled automatic sprinklers—has won a high rating from the Chicago District Golf Assn. This private golf club, with its amazingly low membership fee, will close its membership rolls when the 150th member has been accepted.

Strict observance of the politeness rule adds to the playing pleasure at George Diamond's country club.

The clubhouse locker room features a steam room along with its many other comforts. Country club facilities include a 70-foot outdoor swimming pool, tennis courts, a 100-acre hunting preserve, trails, and access to the boating and water sports on the chain-o-lakes.

Adjacent to the clubhouse is the year-round open-to-the-public George Diamond Charcoal Broiled Steak House and the Go-Go-Go Room for dancing. Other facilities open to the public include the night driving range and the 28-par golf-under-lights course that is under construction.

George Diamond invites golfers and their families to drop in for a tour of the country club this spring.

ACTOR KIRK DOUGLAS and Antioch's own George Diamond play a round of golf at Tamarisk Country Club in Palm Springs, Calif. Diamond is warming up for the re-opening soon of his country club at Route 59 and Grass Lake Road.

Whais

Cookin'?

By Harry H. Stern
The best way to keep from getting stiff in the joints is to get stiff at home.

Now that spring is here for sure, and the lakes are "defrosted," the good old dependable "kicker" (outboard motor, girls) should be made ready for the coming fishing and boating season, assuming of course that you didn't do it during the long cold winter months when so much time was available for the job.

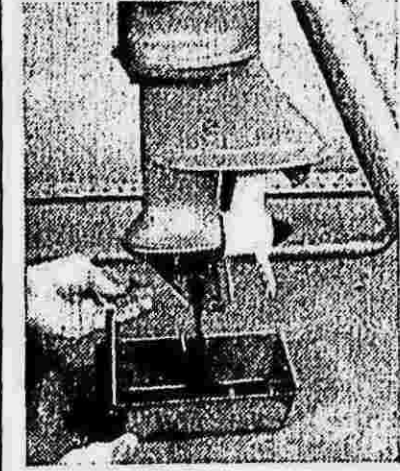

My good friend, Jack Ascott, who is service manager for Evinrude Motors, up Milwaukee way (you know the brau that it made famous), came up with some suggestions for doing it, plus a few of my own (naturally; it's my bat and ball).

First, check the spark plugs and the rubber, insulated caps. It's best to replace plugs that are at all questionable. Rubber caps and wires should be inspected for deterioration.

Remove the fuel filter bowl. Wash the bowl and the filter element thoroughly with denatured alcohol, obtainable at your local paint store. Rubbing alcohol won't do. Neither will the drinking kind. That's for the oral cavity only.

Drain the lower unit (gearcase) and refill it with the type of lubricant recommended by the manufacturer. Even if you did it last fall, check it now to be sure it is still full. If water or metal chips are detected in the drain oil, have a qualified marine dealer check this. It's an indication that everything is not kosher. Caution: practically all of the late model motors use a hypoid type of gear oil, such as Mobil GX-90. The older motors use the familiar black grease. They must not be interchanged.

A propeller in bad condition can cause many problems. Bent or badly nicked propellers should be repaired, repaired or replaced. Remove the propeller and lubricate the shaft. Check the drive (shear) pin and replace it if it is bent, and use a new cotter pin when replacing the propeller.

Pogose Plays With Dubuque

Dennis Pogose, a freshman at the University of Dubuque, was a regular member of the varsity basketball squad during the first semester. His playing was halted due to ineligibility at the semester's end.

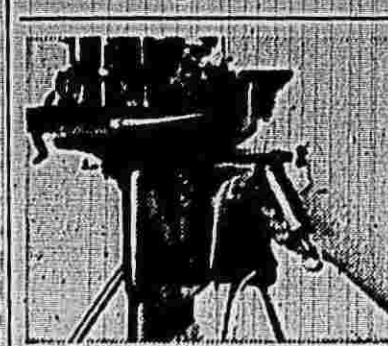

During the time he played, he had the highest rebound average for the team and came within one rebound of equalling the record for one game set a few years ago by Buford Heidenrich.

Dennis is a graduate of Antioch High School.

New Commandant at Great Lakes Base

A Kansan, Rear Admiral Howard A. Yeager, relieved Rear Admiral Ira H. Nunn on Saturday, March 30, as Commandant of the 9th Naval District with headquarters at Great Lakes, Ill.

There are two periods in a man's life when he doesn't understand women—before and after marriage.

Proper lubrication is extremely important. Use a grease gun to fill the fittings. Check your owner's manual for parts that require lubrication. Lubriplate 630-AA is the type of grease usually used for this purpose.

AND DON'T GET SO HIP-PECONORIOUS!

FISHING REPORT — The ice fishermen have hibernated for another season and now the fly fishermen have crawled out of the woodwork and are at it assiduously. They're nailing the bluegills and crappies almost as fast as they swim into the channel that goes by George Jaros' Noshore outfit at Lake Catherine. Ray, Ron and Ray, Jr., pulled coles to 200 of 'em out of the briney wet Sunday — on white streamers. Hey, fellows! Leave some for me!

Now the ignition system. A quick check can be made by holding the terminal of the spark plug wire 1/4 inch away from the motor (while the spark plugs are out), pull the starter rope and a fat, blue spark should jump the gap. This will indicate that the ignition system is basic.

Take charge of the lights.

THE 19th HOLE

BY GEORGE DIAMOND

This is a memo to those who love the good things in life:

The Private George Diamond Country Club, adjacent to the George Diamond Charcoal Broiled Steak House, which is open to the public at Route 59 and Grass Lake Road, caters to those who have a fondness for good golfing, good food and good fellowship.

Membership in this private club gives you a millionaire's privileges at a fee that a junior executive can afford. Write us or come and see us for more details.

The George Diamond Charcoal Broiled Steak House is open to the public all year 'round and is situated on the grounds of the private golf course. It has a coast-to-coast reputation for high quality food at low prices.

Now there is something new just a chip shot away from the steak house. The added attraction is an ultra-modern driving range with 40 tees—no waiting—and it's open to the public. Best of all, the driving range has glare-proof lights so you can swing away night or day. Quartz and mercury vapor lamps turn night into day.

Just to pamper our guests we've put in automatic golf ball dispensing machines from which you fill your bucket of balls. It's all automatic—except you have to do your own swinging.

And before long there will be another treat available on our 300 scenic acres. Under construction is a 9-hole open-to-the-public course where you'll play golf under lights. This night course will have sporty par 3 holes with the exception of the ninth hole which will be a 400-yard par 4 beauty. I can't wait for this course to open so that I can play golf night and day. It should be open around July 1.

If you want to improve your game—and who doesn't—we have a golf pro on the premises. He'll be more than happy to give you some tips or private lessons so that you can knock holes in par instead of the turf.

A pro shop in the country club offers high quality equipment to both he and she golfers. Golf carts are available.

Those who aren't golfers and wish to join the private club as "social members" can share with the golfers such facilities as the Hollywood-style heated swimming pool, the tennis courts, the horse back riding trails and the hunting preserves.

Getting back to the George Diamond Charcoal Broiled Steak House—and most of us do after working up an appetite on the golf course—the dinners start at $1.65.

Oh, yes, I forgot to mention the Go-Go-Go Room, just a cha-cha-cha step off the steak house, where dancers have the right of way.

(Watch for the next column by Mr. Diamond, president of the private George Diamond Country Club, adjacent to the public George Diamond Charcoal Broiled Steak House in Antioch.)

heavy duty multiple speed winch gearing, roller support job for launching and retrieving even sizable power boats. However, experienced trailboatmen have learned many tricks through personal experience.

Carry a set of wheel chocks in your boat or towing car's trunk. Don't depend on finding stones, bricks or blocks of wood at launching ramps. A pair of wedge-shaped wood sections about eight inches to a side don't take up much space. They'll be handy to use if you fit them with a short section of chain or rope so you don't have to crawl under the car to pull chocks free.

Trailboatmen launching in soft terrain will find that a couple of lengths of foot-wide sections of heavy duty meshed wire may prevent your car from bogging down. Though I do not recommend bumper hitches of the camp-on type for towing trailers over the road, many experienced trailboatmen do carry one to secure temporarily to their car's front bumper. If the ground near the launching area isn't firm it's often possible to switch the boat trailer from the rear to the temporary front bumper hitch and drive the trailer down to the water's edge while the car's rear wheels remain on solid ground.

A folding dolly wheel under the tongue of a trailer is a handy item. Where launching ramps are steep a trailer may be disconnected and easily rolled into position at the ramp with the aid of a dolly wheel. A spare section of cable with eye splices fitted with S-hooks provides a simple means to lower a trailer down a steep grade to the water, still controlling it by the car's own power so that it can't run wild. Some veteran trailboatmen fit an extra retrieving winch to their trailer hitch to handle the job without car power.

Those who often launch from sandy beaches have learned that a portable pressurized tank-type tire pump is convenient. Deflating tires to approximately half their normal pressure will help prevent wheels from bogging down. The air tank accessory will save the back and arm strain of hand pumping and eliminate even short distance travel to the nearest filling station with under-inflated tires.

Gander Mt. Elects Vice President

The Board of Directors of Gander Mountain, Inc., the Wilmet, Wisconsin-based firm supplying sportsmen's clothing, shooter's supplies and accessories and ammunition reloading tools and supplies nationally to outdoor sportsmen, has announced the election of Alvin L. Melka to the office of Vice President of the firm.

The easy, warm manner and friendly smile that has won so many friends for Al in and around Wilmet, these past four years, has undoubtedly proved valuable in his duties as General Manager at the sportsman's supply firm as well.

Gander Mountain recognized Mr. Melka's professional abilities by making him General Manager of the firm's operations during his initial year. Mr. Melka came to Gander Mountain from Marshall Field & Co., Chicago, where he held the post of Master Gunsmith for over 13 years.

Al will continue his duties as General Manager of all operations at Gander Mountain, as well as assuming the responsibilities of his new office.

It is always dangerous to drive onto a street or highway in front of rapidly approaching traffic, says the Chicago Motor Club. It's even more dangerous when pavements are slippery. Always give yourself plenty of time and space to make a safe entrance into the passing flow of traffic.

Sabin Vaccine Passed Up In Lake County

The Sabin Oral Vaccine for poliomyelitis will not be distributed for use in Lake County this spring, Arthur G. Baker, M. D., Director of the Lake County Health Department, announced today. The poliomyelitis Advisory Committee of the Lake County Medical Society has advised the health department that uncertainty over the supply of vaccine and lack of time to make it desirable to defer plans for the use of oral polio vaccine until late fall, 1963.

Adequate supplies of the Salk or killed poliomyelitis vaccine are available and Dr. Baker urged parents to arrange with their family physicians for necessary immunizations. Polio immunizations should be started during the child's first year of life. Three injections are required initially. The second injection is given one month after the first, and the third injection five months after the second.

Booster or stimulating doses of Salk Vaccine are recommended at intervals of not less than two years. Polio vaccine protection is desirable for persons of all ages up to 50 years, with particular emphasis on pre-school children and their parents.

The Sabin or oral poliomyelitis vaccine is made of living polio virus that has been modified so that it no longer will produce paralytic polio. This vaccine is taken in a small dose by mouth. It is best administered on a mass or community basis so that the entire population of the county may be protected at the same time. A recent poll of the physicians in Lake County revealed that the vast majority of doctors favor the

Students Measure Up To Physical Fitness Tests

In the past few years the public has been saturated with a deluge of publicity from radio, TV, and newspapers concerning the lack of physical fitness in our youth. This is not a new thing as every generation laments the same lack of fitness in the youth of its day. Many fitness tests and programs have been devised over the years but none seemed to be an adequate measure of physical fitness in all aspects.

In 1957, the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation launched its Youth Physical Fitness Program. This program provided not only an adequate variety of physical fitness tests but also a means of grading and comparing each individual with the national average. The AAHPER Youth Fitness Test Manual contains charts for boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 17.

The student's height and weight are also included in the performance of each individual. As an example: If a boy 15 years old does the standing broad jump of seven feet, he falls in the 80 percentile group (from the tables in the fitness manual). In other words, this student's performance is better than 70% of the boys in his age group or that 20% of this age bracket performs better than 7 feet. The Antioch high school along with grade schools, high schools and colleges throughout the country is taking part in this program annually. Different motor ability and endurance tests are administered in the boys' and girls' physical education program at Antioch to help each student determine whether he can carry his own work load without weakening rapidly.

Physical fitness, by one definition, is the ability to do maximum work using minimum effort. The Antioch high school students performed at Antioch high school measure co-ordination, flexibility, endurance, timing, balance, arm strength and throwing ability. After completing these tests the student can compare his performance with a definite norm to determine his physical fitness. Wednesday evening, May 1st, the public will have an opportunity to witness part of the P. E. program going on in their high school. The boys' and girls' physical education departments will provide the program for the regular PTA meeting on this date and achievement awards will be given to the outstanding students in each class.

Boys who were outstanding in each event were Jim Shepard who did the 1000 yard run in 1 min. and 41 seconds. Paul Lindblad and Louie Meglio did 52 squat thrusts in the allotted 1 minute. Larry Hansen accomplished 180 sit-ups before the scheduled five minute period ran out.

Bob Flickonger climbed the rope in 7.1 seconds while Bruce Dalgard went 9 feet in the standing broad jump. Bob Johnson and Jeff Gates did 21 pull-ups each. Each of these boys together with other outstanding performers in each class will be awarded an achievement medal at the PTA program Wednesday evening, May 1.

Outstanding Performers

ON YOUR MARKS—got set . . . We're not sure what its called but it builds flexibility. Looks like it might be fun on a picnic too.

IT MAY LOOK LIKE A hold-up but in actuality these girls are part of the physical education program performing some of the exercises set up by the department.

Hiking Isn't Always Good

The importance of walking in keeping physically fit has long been stressed by health authorities. Recently, however, a hiking craze has caught on across the country, and ironically, many persons may be risking their lives while trying to improve their health, cautions the Chicago Motor Club.

Matthew C. Sielski, director of safety and traffic engineering for the motor club pointed out that at least one recent fatality has been attributed to hiking on the highway. He offered these tips for hiking safety:

—Arrange your hiking trip so that it does not include highway travel unless absolutely essential. If a highway is unavoidable, try to use one that has the least vehicular traffic.

—Hikers should remember that it is unlawful to walk in the right-of-way of an expressway. Signs erected on expressway ramps state "Motor Vehicles Only." This means that no pedestrians are permitted.

—On non-expressway highways walk on the left side of the pavement so that you can see oncoming traffic. Step off onto the shoulder when a vehicle approaches.

—Where sidewalks are available near a highway, it is unlawful to walk on the highway.

—When hiking at night, wear something white or carry a lighted flashlight. Motorists have difficulty seeing pedestrians at night, especially if dark clothing is worn.

—If you will be hiking with friends on a highway, always walk in single file.

Test Student's Hearts With Recordings

A new project, the first of its kind to be attempted, will test the hearts of about 3,400 Lake County high school students this month.

The process will consist of recording the student's heart sounds on magnetic tape. Later, a heart specialist will listen to a playback of the heart sounds. If the specialist hears an unusual sound, the students will be recalled for further examination. If abnormal findings are made, the student will be referred to his own physician.

There is no charge for the procedure. Dr. Erich Weiss, chairman of the Medical Education Committee of the Heart Council of Lake County, explained. No needles and no medicines are used—the taking of a tape recording is the entire process. It takes exactly one-half minute.

Dr. Arthur Baker of the Lake County Health Dept. said the project is expected to yield valuable data on the rates of congenital and rheumatic heart disease in the high school age group.

Testing equipment consists of a specially designed chair with a highly sensitive microphone attached. Students sit in the chair, which leans forward so the microphone will fit tightly on the chest.

Antioch High School is not among the schools selected for the tests.

You may not know when you're well-off, but the Internal Revenue Department does.

THESE GIRLS ARE DOING plain ordinary sit-ups. A 15 year old girl in the 50 percentile group will be able to do 18 of them. How many can you do? The boys do a little better, a fifteen year old in the same percentile will do about 40.

HOW LONG HAS IT been since you tried to climb a rope? Some of the boys in the Physical Education program can do it in 7.1 seconds.

IT'S AN AWKWARD way to try to get up but it does build up the legs and abdominal muscles, we are told. It's also very tiring, try it sometime.

Little League, Pony League

Officers and parents of the Lake Villa Township Little League and Pony League met Monday night at the Lindenhurst Civic Center to discuss purchasing uniforms for the Pony League, as they have none. That is the only time registration may be made for either league. Registration fee of $3 for Little League must be paid at that time and $5 for Pony League. The money pays for insurance and helps to pay for the uniforms.

Neither of the leagues have sponsors, and they would sincerely appreciate anyone sponsoring a team. If you would like to sponsor a team, call Bob Clark, president, at Elliot 6-5704 or Joe Hamm, treasurer, at Elliot 6-7138.

We Will Be Asking You For Your Social Security Number

Beginning in April all Lake County Banks will mail requests for your social security number for bank use as required under the Federal Tax Law enacted by Congress in October 1961.

This law requires all banks and other payers of interest or dividends of $10.00 or more to any one person during each calendar year to report these payments to the Internal Revenue Service. This is NOT a NEW tax. The Internal Revenue regulations also require the payers, in this instance your bank, to furnish your social security number to the Internal Revenue Service with each reported payment. The number system required simply provides the Internal Revenue Service with a means of verifying whether all interest and dividends received by taxpayers or credited to their accounts have been included in their tax returns.

We wish to emphasize that we are required by federal law and regulation to request this information. You can assist us by responding promptly to our requests. Mail the required form giving your number or give us your number when you are in the bank.
